Proposition of the Clark Committee to the Hoggites.

INDORSE CLEVELAND

And Ratify the National Platform Adopted at Chicago Two Years Ago.

[DALLAS NEWS, Feb. 2, '94.]

After spending five hours in session in consideration of the situation confronting the democratic party in Texas, the democratic state executive committee headed by A. L. Matlock has agreed upon a plan for harmony to be submitted to Hon. Waller S. Baker and the Hogg committee.

The proposition, which is the unanimous opinion of the Clark committee, is as follows:

Whereas, a serious division exists among democrats in Texas and it is to the interest of the party and of good government that such division should be adjusted and the party reunited upon the basis of fraternal union involving no sacrifice of principle on the part of any democrat nor the imposition of any terms calculated to bring humiliation, therefore, be it

Resolved, that we most heartily favor a reunion of the party and while this committee does not assume to frame or dictate, yet for the purpose of reunion, we propose and submit as a basis of adjustment and settlement of all differences honorably.

1. That all democrats of Texas indorse as a true expression of democratic faith the national platform adopted at Chicago in 1892.

2. That recognizing the existence of individual differences of opinion among democrats upon many questions we favor a relegation of all differences in federal issues to the wisdom of the present democratic congress and president and favor a like relegation of all differences on local and state issues to the next democratic state convention.

3. We indorse our present national democratic administration.

4. We condemn the platform and principles of the republicans and populists, or people's party, as essentially inimical to democracy and destructive of free government.

5, We propose that all primaries and conventions to be held in 1894 be composed and constituted on the basis of the vote for the Cleveland electors in 1892, and no person who will not pledge himself to abide by the action of the state convention so assembled, shall be allowed to participate in the primaires.

Be it further resolved, that Hon. A L. Matlock, chairman of this committee, be and is hereby authorized and directed to communicate these resolutions to Hon. Waller S. Baker, chairman of the other democratic committee, and to inform said Baker that if the foregoing propositions as a basis for settlement of party differences are acceptable to him and his committee, the said Matlock, as chairman, will agree with said Baker and his committee to call separate conventions to meet at the same time and place to the end that said conventions, representing as they would every democrat in Texas, may proceed in the work of party reconciliation, according to such methods of procedure as they may determine to be best for the accomplishment of said purpose. Or if Chairman Baker and his committee so prefer, the said A L. Matlock, as chairman, will join him in a call for one democratic state convention at such time and place as may be agreed upon, and will co-operate with him in giving proper direction to county and precinct chairmen in order to secure unity of action, and that the Hon. Waller S. Baker is respectfully requested to respond to the propositions above submitted at the earliest practicable day, if possible not later than the 10th day of March, 1894.

The foregoing resolutions were reported by a sub committee of five of which Hon. Norman G. Kittrell of Houston was chairman. They were unanimously adopted by the full committee.

The following is a draft of the letter indorsed by the committee to be sent by Chairman Matlock to Chairman Baker:

Dallas, Feb. 1, 1894.—Hon. Waller S. Baker, Chairman: Sir—By direction of the state democratic committee, of which I am chairman, I have the honor to transmit herewith a series of resolutions adopted by said committee at a meeting held here to-day. These resolutions embody proposals for the settlement of all differences among democrats in our state and for securing the unity in party action so essential to the perpetuation of democratic principles in government. They have been adopted and are now submitted to you and your committee with a cordial realization of the existing conditions in our party and with the hope of securing party reunion upon grounds which must be acceptable to every democrat.

The committee I have the honor to represent are, of course, aware that the acceptance of these propositions to your committee would not be binding upon those democrats who claim the vallidity of your committee in advance of ratification by them, but it is hoped and believed that the proposed agreement, if consummated in, be generally acquiesced in and accepted by the masses of the democrats of Texas and will conduce to the speedy settlement of all differences and the entire unification of the party.

Soliciting the early and favorable cinsideration of these proposals at the hands of yourself and committee, I have the honor to remain with sentiments of high regard, your obedient servant,

A. L. MATLOCK,
Chairman, etc.

HARRISON—STANFORD.

Rumored Engagement of the Ex-President and Widow of the Millionaire.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Feb. 5—The Daily Evening Democrat says to night: The Democrat has learned through a source, which it believes to be reliable, that Ex-President Harrison and Mrs. Stanford, widow of the late Leland Stanford, the California millionaire and United States senator, will shortly be united in marriage at Palo Alto. The ex-president has left Indianapolis for Stanford university, to deliver a series of lectures, and while there will be married to Mrs. Stanford, whose wealth is estimated at $20,000,000 Mrs. Stanford was a warm friend of of the late Mrs. Harrison and during the late republican administration the Harrisons and Stanfords formed a close and lasting friendship and one which has terminated in the rumored marriage.

S.S.S. CURES SCROFULA

Mrs. E. J. Rowell, Milford, Miss., says her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of S.S.S. after having had much other treatment, and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she could not live.

S.S.S. Cured my little boy of horrid sore mouth, after he had been treated by several physicians and had grown worse under their treatment. Given up all hope, when S.S.S. was recommended to me. Before he had taken one bottle there was a decided change for the better, and after using six bottles he was entirely cured. Mrs. T. L. Harrison, Statesville, Miss.

CATARRH TWENTY YEARS.

Three Hundred Dollars Spent for Treatment in Vain.

This is what Dr. Hartman's free course of treatment did for me: I was sick for eighteen or twenty years and did not know what was the matter with me. I expectorated a gray, sticky mucous from the throat. Every time I took cold my throat got sore, and I would have fever. I had catarrh in my head, and it commenced to affect my eyes. My nose was stopped up, and every morning I had coughing spells. I consulted several physicians, one of whom said he could cure me in six months I kept on doctoring until I spent $300, and was not any better, but kept gradually growing worse until I was confined to my bed. I got some Peruna and it cured the catarrh in my head and my eyes are better. I don't have any more dizzy spells, my head feels clear, I can breathe through my nose, and my throat is cured. My voice is clear. My appetite is good and I sleep well. When I began taking Peruna I weighed only 121 pounds, but now I weigh 135. I wish I could tell every one about Pe-ru-na, so that thousands more would be cured.

Prof. Briggs.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 4—Prof. Briggs of the Union theological seminary preached today in the United church. The substance of the discourse was that there was only one saving faith. The world, he said, was torn with dogmatic teachings, and denominationalism has been the source of American christianity. It exists nowhere else in the world in such a terrible manner as in America. "If we were not a very wealthy country," continued the preacher, "it would have been disastrous to christianity in this country. The greatest church dissensions have been due to the struggles among men to see who would be highest."

He thought the time was coming when there would be a christian alliance the world over, and that there would be a universal church.

BLACK FLAG OF ANARCHY

Floating Over the U. S. Treasury According to James R. Sovereign.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 2.—General Master Workman James R. Sovereign of the Knights of Labor declared last night that the "black flag of anarchy is floating over the United States treasury department at Washington, and that when the November election comes the working people of this country would rise in their might and by means of the ballot change the condition of affairs."

The declaration was made in the course of an address which Mr. Sovereign delivered before a large audience of working men. Mr. Sovereign bitterly attacked the bond issue, and said that if it cannot be defeated by an injunction some other way would be found.

Young Farmer Dies of Glanders Caught from His Horse.

SHERMAN, Tex., Feb. 5—John Mayrant, a well known young farmer who died at his home in Preston Bend, this county, Saturday, was, his physicians say, afflicted with glanders and gave it as their further opinion that he had contracted it from a sick horse which he had been attending on the place. The neighborhood is considerably wrought up and as there are several sick horses in the neighborhood an investigating committee has been appointed by the county judge to go out and examine all sick stock for traces of glanders.

Aired Her Knowledge.

She was a Vasser graduate and didn't know a little bit about housekeeping when she married her last beau and settled down to domestic life.

Her first order at the grocer's was a crusher, but that good man was used to all sorts of people and could interpret Vasser as easily as plain English.

"I want 10 pounds of paralized sugar," she said with a business air.

"Yes'm What next."

"Two cans of condemned milk."

"Yes'm." He set down "pulverized sug," "condensed milk."

"Anything more, ma'am?"

"A bag of fresh salt—be sure that it is fresh."

"Yes'm Anything else?"

"A pound of desecrated codfish."

"Yes'm." He wrote glibly "desiccated cod."

"Nothing more ma'am? Here's some nice horse radish just in."

"No," she said with a sad wobble to her flexible voice; "it would be of no use, as we don't keep a horse."

Then the grocer sat down on a kit of mackerel and fanned himself with a patent washboard. Vassar had taken the cake.—Detroit Free Press.

PROSPECTUS

Of J. H. Davis' ("Cyclone") Great Book,

"A POLITICAL REVELATION."

This book is just what its title signifies. It treats of the rise and formation of our government, its constitution and policy, showing that the intention of the founders of our government was to inaugurate just such a system as is provided in the populist platform. It shows that corporations are the royal family of the United States, with more power to absorb the wealth of the people than English royalty. The author not only harmonizes the populist platform with the constitution, but he clearly proves that the populists hold the only constitutional theory on money, land and highways. It is a legal and historical review of the principles found in the populist platform, founding every principle on Blackstone and the common law of England, and supporting them by Jefferson, Madison, Clay, and the debates of scores of the framers of our constitution, while the constitution was being formed.

Mr. Davis shows clearly that the populists are the followers of Jefferson and Madison, and that their opponents are the followers of Hamilton and Morris. The volume contains more than a hundred pages of quotations from Jefferson, Madison, Clay, Randolph, Mason and others, proving our position to be strictly in conformity to the constitution.

It arms every man with facts of law and history by which he may overthrow every opponent, and disarm every lawyer who opposes us.

The subjects are treated in that legal, logical and convincing style peculiar to Mr. Davis alone. It will be a text book and standard work as long as the love of liberty exists in the human heart. The line of demarkation between aristocracy and democracy in government is completely drawn. Its principles are fundamental and eternal.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 203 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. WE regret to learn that Mr. Ward Taylor, editor of the Jefferson Jimplecute is seriously sick. Mr. Taylor is one of the oldest and best newspaper men of the state as the Jimplecute will substantiate. We earnestly hope for his early recovery.

THE democratic test at the primaries in Texas has been: "will you support the nominee?" Now gentlemanly Hogg goon, are you supporting Cleveland? If not, are you not inconsistent in applying such a test and then violating it? You would vote for a "yellow dog" as a nominee and then turn your back on him after his election. While you are hunting for harmony, search for a small chunk of consistency.

The bill repealing the federal election laws passed the senate yesterday and is now ready for the president's signature.

How Are We Building?

Few people seem to concern themselves about the permanency of public institutions. Under the law of natural selection or "survival of the fittest" we seem in the same selfish struggle for existence with all other animate creatures. With the hope that a part of our readers are interested in the question of how best to perpetuate our free public institutions and to aid in the work of building for universal peace and happiness of man on earth, we here venture to call attention to a few tendencies in our midst which seem destined to bring trouble in the future. Among individuals and among parties and clans of all kinds there is a dangerous predatory disposition. A disposition to cheat, defraud, betray, and decevie each other.

The machinery of courts and laws seems easily converted to aid in the work of spoliation. Under the prevailing regime a starving beggar steals a loaf, staggers under a heavy penalty and is disgraced in all polite society; while the cormorant, by viler methods, acquired millions of wealth and is honored and favored by the same polite society.

The alluring basic phrase that "All men are born free and equal" seems to be the central and most dangerous rock in the course of our boasted ship of state.

Not all men nor any men are born free and equal. We are not free of inherited evils of body, mind nor estate. Neither are we equal in any respect.

Starting on a fundamental error all our results and conclusions are necessarily tainted with weakness and untruth.

It is high time that all, who are earnest advocates of truth should begin to look a little into our growing national evils and seek for a permanent correction and building of principles that will bless those who are to follow. We invite patriotic people of every class to join in this work.

The whole question should be stripped of all party and sectarian questions.

Lincoln's One Word.

Judge Samuel B. Herit, of Atlanta, Ga., recently related a conversation that he once had with the late Jefferson Davis.

"To the last moment," said Mr. Davis, "I was confident that this recognition would come to us. The landing of the French in Mexico was then our interest, if we could have consolidated our forces down in Texas under Kirby Smith, the alliance could have become effective."

"And yet," said Judge Herit, "this was all dreaming. It was like following a rainbow. How different all might have been if the less brilliant but more practical mind of Alexander H. Stephens had dominated the councils of the nation. Almost with tears in his eyes Mr. Stephens once told me of the inner history of the Hampton Roads conference.

"'When the intimation came to us,' said Mr. Stephens, "that the Federals desired a conference, it was well known that Mr. Davis was opposed to it. The majority of the Confederate senate took its cue from the president, and therefore the subject could not be directly broached then. As a consequence, we were forced to strategy. It was proposed that Gen. Lee should appear before the senate in executive session and, under the cloak of secrecy to be removed only for the personal information of the president, give an exact statement of the real position of the two armies.

"With great reluctance, Gen. Lee consented to answer questions, the result being to show that the Confederate army had been reduced to a mere shell, with neither defenses, refuge nor supplies to fall back upon. With this plain statement the senate consented to the appointment of peace commissioners. But when a resolution was offered and passed that these commisioners should act under instructions passed by Mr. Davis, all hope in my heart failed. Only the conviction that I should lose no chance to bring about peace induced me to withold my resignation.

"After describing the meeting with President Lincoln and associates," continued Judge Herit, "Mr. Stephens went on to say; 'Finally, all preliminaries over, President Lincoln said: "So anxious am I for peace that I will offer terms which I am sure will surprise you all. On this sheet of paper I will write one word, while I will leave to your own judgment every other condition and requirement." Writing, Mr. Lincoln passed the sheet over to me, and I found written upon it the one word, "Union." "All other terms," concluded Mr. Lincoln, "may be of your own dictation."

"My heart sank within me,' said Mr. Stephens. 'Here, on simply accepting the union, we could dictate our own terms of peace, preserve our state autonomies, maintain our for tunes, gain recompense for our slave property, and all the consequences following defeat could be averted. But our instructions from Mr. Davis, the corner stone of which was the recognition of the Confederate States, forbade the acceptance of this most magnanimous and generous offer. When I so informed Mr. Lincoln, he sank back in his chair with a look of utter disappointment. We all felt the gravity of the situation, and it was recognized that one of the great mistakes of history was being enacted. With an army whose defeat was already acknowledged by Gen. Lee, President Davis insisted upon annihilation.'

"These facts.," continued Judge Herit, "it was agreed should be kept secret until the death of the principals. That time having arrived, there is no good reason why they should not be made known." —New York World.

How to Teach Patriotism.

LEBANON, Tex., Feb. 5, '94.

Editor Democrat.

A subject came up before the "Teachers' Institute," on Friday in McKinney, that elicited the expressions of some very amusing views. The subject was this: "How can we best inspire our students with patriotism?" Prof. Hunter led the discussion. It was his idea that the constitution of the United States should be thoroughly taught—especially the most binding and precious parts.

A sister teacher of the McKinney institute pitched into him pretty lively. She objected to teaching the history (as given to us) of the "late unpleasantness," as an incentive to patriotism. She objected to the historians, big I's and little u's, and thought the Southern Confederacy should receive its share in examples of patriotism; she objected to man-worshiping.

Prof. Trotter followed, giving briefly, his views. He concurred in the main in the esteemed lady's views—that hero worshiping, such as fire works, pyrotechnic displays, etc. was not in order.

Prof. John Doyle made the best speech on the subject. He is an orator of the highest type, and is finely educated. He held the body of teachers spell bound for a while, and in conclusion said, substantially: "If we, as a people continue to idolize men above principle, our flag will ere long trail in the dust of humility and dishonor."

Some suggested one thing and some another; but none struck the key-note, in my humble judgment.

Instead of singing hymns of eulogy to men who fought bloody battles and men who incited them, it would accord more with the eternal fitness of circumstances, to teach them to love, protect and encourage the poor, the weak, the unfortunate and the distressed. American citizens battling—in peace, striving—in vain, for their inalienable rights, guaranteed to them by that precious document—the Constitution.

Webster says patriotism "is the love of country." Will it cause our children to love their country more to hold up some individual, who carried a sword that his name might be indelibly imprinted upon the burning pages of fame?

We might, with propriety cite them to Washington who freed us, and to Lincoln who freed another race to the acknowledged glory and honor of the people of this, the once noblest republic beneath God's sun.

But rather call their (the pupils) attention to the demoralization and decay of our country; show the causes and suggest a remedy.

Will it cause a child to love its country more by lauding some great man north or south? Or would it strengthen their patriotism by heaping inculpations on some noted general or statesman? despised by us.

Or can we not more logically penetrate the cranium of the more incorrigible flint-hearted urchin by the frequent, dispassionate and unprejudiced lecturing them on the preponderant responsibility of the duty of all to their country, that happiness, prosperity and eternal peace might be the result? We thus arouse their sympathies, and pity—which, is akin to love—and do not incite jealousy, hatred and bitter opposition between sections, as the method of man-worshiping would do. Teach them to love the country, not for some great man, for some single great cause, but for the people who live in it first and the government next,—the latter, however, will follow when the former is acquired. Teach principle, rather than deeds—the great fundamental, undying principles of our nation. If these things are inculcated in the child's mind it will grow up loving and cherishing its country, hold it as sacred as the fireside, and if need be, fight its battles and hold its flag untainted aloft in the realms of purity and no foreign foe can dishonor it.

Railroad Bonds.

MCKINNEY, Tex., Feb. 2, '94.

Editor Democrat:

Dear Sir:—The railroad subsidy bonds issued by the city of McKinney in January, 1873, to the Houston & Texas Central Railway Co., were compromised to-day for $20,000, the bonds being surrendered and destroyed and the judgment rendered against the city some years ago receipted in full by the attorney of record. The money paid to the holders of the bonds consisted of $10,500 raised by way of taxation as a sinking fund, and the balance of $9,500 was bonds at 6 per cent interest per annum, as evidenced by 19 bonds of the denomination of $500 each, and payable in ten years, one tenth of the principal being payable annually, so that when the last coupon is paid the debt will have been paid in full. The bonded debt just settled amounted originally to $20,000, and drew interest at 8 per cent per annum and the exact amount actually due at the time of the settlement was involved in some doubt. Taking as a criterion of the amount due the outstanding bonds amounting to $16,000 besides interest since 1885, and the debt amounted to $26,986. If the judgment against the city of $14,000 and interest since the first day of July 1885, be assumed to be the correct data the amount would have been $23,613.35. Viewed from any standpoint the settlement saves the city several thousand dollars besides a reduction of interest on the amount borrowed to settle with. The amount actually paid out by the city up to this time, not including the costs of litigation, and of collecting the taxes amounts to $42,730, which sum includes the bonds just negotiated. The original debt was to run 20 years at 8 per cent and if the same had run that length of time and no sinking fund had been collected the principal and interest in round numbers would have amounted, at maturity to $52,000.

Respectfully,
J. M. PEARSON,
Mayor.

Calamity City.

Ye readers of THE DEMOCRAT, listen, while I relate a story of a modern town in this famous "Lone Star state."

Our merchant is a business man,
With common sense a plenty;
And when he sells his goods to you,
He raises the per cent to twenty.

Our smith—a mighty man is he,
With heart and hands e'er willing;
With steady strokes his hammer falls,
The iron pieces welding.

Our Dr. rides from dawn till dark,
Grim death is always facing;
The dread disease on every hand,
He with physic is outracing.

But if the foe should conquer all,
And still the heart's fast beating;
He with grave and saddened mien,
Remarks that life is fleeting.

Our college stands out in bold relief,
With students both large and small
The teacher is the best of men,
He list's to duty's call.

The children love to hear his voice,
For he in kindness speaks;
Each child with smiling countenance tries,
His simple rules to keep

Our people always go to church,
And listen with great entent,
To the teachings of the holy one,
Who to this world was sent.

He came to die that we might live,
In a land more holy than ours,
Where the rose of love and the lilly of peace,
Blooms in the garden of flowers.

Now if you would like to have a good time,
And not go far away;
Just come and see for yourself,
And stay a week or ten days.

For Calamity City is a wonderful town,
In this sunny land of flowers;
We are sociable, peacable and have a good time,
And you would like this way of ours,

HAZEL EYES.

50 CENTS GETS $500 IN GOLD.

In order to further increase the circulation of the WEEKLY COMMERCIAL already the largest in the South, and in order to interest and inform its readers on the value of the cotton crop, the greatest product of the Southern State, THE COMMERCIAL offers a prize of to the one sending in the nearest to the correct guess on the number of bales of cotton in sight on April 27, 1894.

The Memphis Cotton Exchange makes a report each Friday of cotton in sight, and as our guess is to be based on this report for the last Friday in next April, we give below the figures for this date in past years. The crop in sight includes port receipts, overland movement, estimated Southern mill takings, and stock at 31 interior towns, in excess of Sept. 1st.

Crop in sight the last Friday in April for previous years is as follows:

1889	6,725,383 bales
1890	7,068,904 bales
1891	8,247,323 bales
1892	8,665,852 bales
1893	6,226,928 bales

This is No Lottery.

It is a guessing contest, open to all, and will educate the people on this very important crop, and is like offering a prize to the most studious at school.

One hundred and twenty-four prizes are to be given to the 124 guesses that are nearest correct. The nearest gets the $500 in gold; the second, a $300 cotton gin; third, $110 set of furniture; fourth, a gold watch, etc. For 50 cents you get the WEEKLY COMMERCIAL one year and have a guessa at one of these 124 prizes.

Make your guess in the following form, and remember that no attention will be paid to your guess unless accompanied by 50 cents for the WEEKLY COMMERCIAL. Every other paper in the country costs $1.00.

I GUESS

The first 2,000 sending in guesses, in addition to competing for one of the above prizes, will receive each a copy of the "Seaside Library," worth 10 cents each. Send in your guess at once and get one of these.

THE COMMERCIAL always fulfills its promises. It offered $1,000 on the crop of 1890 and '91 and Zach T. Duncan of Camden, Ark., who won the money. Last year W. H. Drane, Batesville, Miss., received the $500. THE COMMERCIAL holds the receipts for these and every other prize it ever offered.

AGENTS.

We want an agent at every town and cross-road in the South for the WEEKLY COMMERCIAL. Agents get 10 cents on each subscription, remitting only 40 cents to us, and each subscriber you get has a guess on the cotton crop. The WEEKLY COMMERCIAL at 50 cents a year is the cheapest paper in the South, and it is no trouble to get subscribers for it. In addition to the 10 cents commission, twelve prizes are offered to the twelve agents getting up the largest list before April 30. The first, a years scholarship in Galloway College, Searcy, Ark., including a year's free tuition, board, laundry, etc., in this splendid female college; next, $50 in cash; then a double-barrel breech-loading gun; a sack of Rio coffee; a set Chambers' Encyclopedia, thirty volumes; $25 suit of clothes; a set of farm implements, with two plows and a harrow, etc., etc. Write THE COMMERCIAL for full list of prizes and for free sample copies.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Mr. Albert Favorite, of Arkansas City Kan., wishes to give our readers the benefit of his experience with cold. He says, "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs, and had hardly recovered from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and left me with a hacking cough which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen years ago with much success, and concluded to try it again. When I had got through with one bottle my cough had left me, and I have not suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others, and all speak well of it." 50 cent bottles for sale by R. E. Bristol.

Prof. P. B. H. Shearer and his elocutionary class will give an entertainment at the Institute building next Saturday night. We have had the pleasure of attending Prof. Shearer's entertainments in the past and we can say truly that his renditions are most excellent. It will cost the public nothing to attend and every person should take advantage of the liberal offer. Remember the date—next Saturday night.

Mr. F. C. Thompson, editor of the McKinney Democrat, and Mr. W. S. Wolfe, of New Harmony, Indiana, made us a pleasant call Saturday morning. Mr. Wolfe's wife is a niece of Mr. John Grant, and is accompanying Mr. Wolfe on a visit to her uncle here. Mr. Wolfe is a prominent knight of the grip, and represents a leading clothing establishment of Cincinnati, Ohio. Like most of drummers he is a genial companion, and full of life and humor. He showed us a copy of the New Harmony (Ind.) News, published by his son, and it is a fine paper and evidently the leading organ of that section. It's large patronage shows that the young man is a rustler, and that his work is appreciated at home. They remained here two or three days when Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe returned to their Indiana home, and Mr. Thompson to McKinney.—Jefferson Jimplecute.

"Great Rock Island Route."

Is pleased with Texas and Texas people and hopes the feeling is reciprocal. Business with the new line since its opening has been satisfactory and we will continue to furnish the very best of service to Colorado, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, and all points east of the Missouri river.

After all, the comfort of a railroad journey is made up of little things.

The track is smooth and the Pullman sleepers and free reclining chair cars are first class and "up to date." In addition to the above, which are, of course, absolute necessities, the cars are lighted with gas and heated by steam from the engine. There is plenty of ice water in the tanks and a supply of clean towels in the toilet rooms. On top of it all, we have a lot of courteous employes who do not take it as an insult to be asked a civil question. As we say, these are some of the little things sometimes neglected as may have been your experience. We hope not, however, on the great Rock Island Route.

We are also anxious to please at headquarters. If you are in need of information and cannot procure it readily of your nearest local agent, drop a line to the undersigned and we will do our best to answer it promptly.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The Hawaiian debate again occupied the attention of the house today, a night session being held to permit speeches by those members who desired to talk, but who otherwise would not have had an opportunity to do so on account of the limited time allowed. The debate is attracting much less attention in the house than was anticipated. This is, perhaps, due to the abandonment of the policy of restoration of the administration and partly to the fact that the long debate has surfeited the house The principle speeches to-day were made by Messrs. Johnson of Indiana, Boutelle of Maine. Patterson of Tennessee and Black of Illinois.

Mr. Everett [Dem.] of Massachusetts, delivered the invocation at the opening session of the house this morning.

Mr. McGann tried to obtain unanimous consent for the consideration of a resolution he offered to investigate the action of Judge Jenkins in the case of the Northern Pacific railroad, whose employes he had enjoined from striking. but objection was made.

The Hawaiian debate was resumed by Mr. Morse [Rep.] of Mass., who had five minutes. Before he proceded for a minute, however, Mr. Outhwaite [Dem.] of Ohio had called him to order for unparliamentary language.

"To which language do yon refer?" asked Mr. Morse.

"To the insulting, imprudent and unparliamentary language just used," answered Mr. Outwaite.

Mr. Morse according to the rule, took his seat and the words excepted to were read at the clerk's desk, as follows: "And yet, strange to tell, at the command of their master, the mighty Grover Cleveland, his cuckoos in the house and senate, staunch southern democrats, the loudest shouters for a white man's government, disregard all their ancient traditions about the white man's supremacy and the white man's government."

The speaker ruled that the language was unparliamentary.

Before Mr Morse could proceed, however, his time expired.

Mr. Johnson [rep.] of Indiana took the floor and made a strong speech arraigning the course of the present administration in attempting to restore the deposit queen. He drew a vivid picture of the efforts of Mr. Willis and evolved out of it all the plot of the new comic opera to be called "LiHuokalani."

Mr. Patterson [dem.] of Tennessee followed The sugar interests, he argued, were behind the annexation movement. If the island could have been annexed under the bounty clause of the McKinley law the sugar planters there would have received from the United States treasury $50,000,000 The desire of the sugar planters to put their hands into the pockets of the American people lay at the bottom of the revolution of 1853, said the speaker impressively. "The great haste manifested to secure annexation," he said, "was because those in the conspiracy knew that Grover Cleveland, when inaugurated, would never give his consent to the territorial extension of the United States to those of islands 2000 miles beyond our western shore."

Messrs. Wheeler [dem.] of Alabama continued the debate The former delivered a glowing eulogy of President Cleveland. The latter argued in behalf of the adoption of the McCreary resolution from a legal standpoint.

Mr. Boutelle, who followed Mr. Oates, after reviewing the contents of his resolution reprobating the policy of the administration, added: "What ever may be the tardy expression of this house, I claim a favorable verdict on my indictment from the American people." Continuing, he followed events to the attempted promulgation by the ex-queen of a new constitution Jan. 14, 1893. That act he denominated the political suicide of the Hawaiian monarchy. "The honor of the American name," said Mr. Boutelle, "is being dragged in the dust by Grover Cleveland, Walter Q Gresham, James H. Blount and Minister Willis I have no words to express my contempt for the policy of treachery, duplicity and false pretense. You, on the other side, can not condone this outrage; you cannot make this heroic." [Applause.] Proceeding, he characterized Mr. Gresham as a "disappointed and apostate secretary of state who, in conjunction with the president, sought not only to uproot and overturn an American government, but to degrade the American navy by putting it under the control of a Georgia politician in order to get some one who would haul down the American flag. [Applause.] When that order was written, whether by the secretary of the navy or the president, the constitution was violated and he who penned it rendered himself liable to impeachment. As a partisan," he said, "he might well glory and gloat over the present policy of the democratic party, which" he added amid republican applause, "had been spewed out by the American people." He concluded with a glowing eulogy of the American flag, reciting a few verses, a sort of apostrophe to the stars and stripes, written by a native of Hawaii. He was loudly applauded when he took his seat.

Mr. Black of Illinois, the ex-commissioner of pensions, in reply said that the eloquent words of Mr. Boutelle, so far as they appealed to American honor and American patriotism, awakened the liveliest commendation in his heart, but after all, this was now an old story. It was no longer a grave question The government of Hawaii was not finally established. There was no attempt to invade it. All that the republicans hoped for by this discussion of ancient history was political advantage, and the democratic side of the house did not propos to analyze the several resolutions pending pointing out what he considered their defects or inconsistencies. He argued for a policy of foreign non intervention. "We are after Stevens," said he, "and we think we will get him." [Laughter and applause.] By the peaceful conquest of extirpation, said he, but four fifths of 1 per cent. of all the islands in Hawaiian islands now remained to the native population. Never had there been such a peaceful conquest in the history of the world. American intelligence and American energy were paramount there. Let them work out their own salvation Let us declare for a policy of non interference by the United States and against tolerating foreign intervention by other governments and the supremacy of brain and civilization in those islands is assured. Mr. Black's brilliant peroration was loudly applauded.

Mr. Van Voorhis [rep.] of New York, a member of the foreign affairs committee, declared unequivocally for annexation.

Mr Griffin [dem.] of Michigan closed the debate for the afternoon with an argument in support of the McCreary resolution.

At 5:15 the house took a recess until 8 o'clock.

Only four members were present when Mr. Hall, democrat, of Minnesota began to speak in support of the administration. A half dozen others came subsequently and there was considerable attendance in the galleries Mr. Hall charged that the revolution was the result of a conspiracy, made possible by the overt aid of Minister Stevens and the presence of the United States troops He indorsed the policy of the administration in its attempt to right the queen through the connivance of the United States minister. As the facts grow clearer, said he, public sentiment will place in every honest hand a whip with which to scourge J. S. Stevens throughout the land.

Mr. Post [rep.] of Illinois contended that the attempt of the administration to restore to debauched and discredited queen could not be condoned at night out by the passage of a partisan resolution.

Mississippi also took the position that Mr Stevens was a party to the revolution and should be censured by the house.

Mr. Lacy [rep.] of Iowa and Mr. Stockdale [dem.] of Mississippi, were the last speakers

At 10:30 the house adjourned.

ALLIANCE DEPARTMENT.

[MRS. M. E. FORBES, EDITOR.]

Address all communications to Alliance department, THE DEMOCRAT, McKinney, or Mrs. M. E. Forbes, Allen, Texas.

When we took charge of this department it was with the assurance that we would have the hearty co-operation of the brethren throughout the county. But up to date we have received no assistance whatever from others. We have neither the time or ability to make this column of interest to the order without your assistance, we want communications from each sub-alliance in the county, let us know what you are doing for reform. We want the ideas of all who have ideas of their own. Sisters and brothers this column is what you please to make it. If you will give us your assistance we will make this enterprise of great advantage and bring the alliances of Collin county in closer touch with each other. Come now, brethren get down to business and no foolishness

The supreme council of the national farmers alliance and industrial union convenes at Topeka, Kan, this month prominent reformers from all over the union will be present; Gen J. B. Weaver is billed for a speech

Much is being said of late in regard to the latest move of Shylock to divide the people and conquer sectional prejudices having about died out the money sharks can no longer depend upon that to serve their ends So they are now trying to revive religious hatred, hence the anti Catholic agitation now sweeping over the country, an organization known as the A. P. A. is the trap in which they are at present catching thousands of suckers. Let alliance men beware and when one of those loose mouth cranks approach him and begin his ale of woe, and says the Catholics are going to get possession of the government and massacree all the protestants, tell him to go and wash his feet and be bored in the head for the simples

Bro C. A. Mc[illegible] will deliver a series of lectures in Collin county beginning about Feb. 20th

It is said that the South Carolina alliance is better organized than that of any other state. They have complete control of the state offices and have [illegible] the machinery of both the political and democratic [illegible] The Palmetto state is [illegible]

We hear it whispered about that [illegible] is strong, but it is all [illegible] It is only those who want it made. We may not be as strong in number as we have been in time past, but what we have now are the true blues They are cool headed, conservative people, there is lots of them out of the fold yet that are coming in as they see the light; so my good alliance brethren and sisters keep your lamps filled and burning, let their rays shine o'er the nation

A few more speeches on harmony and harmony in the democratic ranks will be impossible Harmonize away boys.

We think we have some one in Collin county who would make an excellent state secretary of the alliance, but we think it rather early to name them, but let the people guess who it is.

This is my last communication until I get some help from some one, so you had better get a move on yourselves my brothers and sisters.
